Kerr's Magistrates' Acts.

Svo. Cloth ; pp. 435. Price, $3.00.

THE MAGISTRATES' ACTS OF 1869. With Notes, explanatory of the Texts, Forms and Precedents. By W. H. KERR, Barrister-at-Law.

This work contains all the Acts relating to the duties of Justices of the Peace, and other Magistrates out of Session. These Acts are applicable to the whole Dominion of Canada, and modify the laws of all the Provinces. The text is given of the Summary Convictions and Orders Act.

Indictable Offences Act.

Summary Jurisdiction and Larceny Act.

Summary Jurisdiction in Criminal Cases Act.

Which came into force January 1st, 1870.

Act to amend the Act relating to Justices of the Peace, May, 1870.

These Acts are all thoroughly annotated so as to be a guide to Magistrates.

The book contains, also, an Introduction to the Law of Evidence, and an account of the nature of the duties and mode of appointment of Justices of the Peace.

A complete collection of Forms is also given,—not only the Forms appended to the Statutes, but a large number of suitable Forms from standard English authorities, so as to provide for every possible case.

The work contains, moreover, a Table of such Statutes and parts of Statutes as have been repealed, and the text of such portions of the Statutes of the old Provinces of Canada, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, as have been preserved from repeal, and which are, consequently, very important for ready reference to every Magistrate.

Complete Indexes to subjects and to forms render the work easy of consultation.

"The difficulties experienced by Justices of the Peace in the country districts of Canada, in the administration of the law, have been very considerably increased by the want of any suitable books as guides in cases coming before them. It is true that there have been a few general rules to be found in works prepared for the purpose, but these have been so imperfect that the country magistrate has often been rather hindered than helped in the discharge of duties, sometimes of a rather important nature. In addition to this want, there has been so many changes made in the Statutes, that it is not to be wondered if mistakes have been committed by men who are not supposed to be chosen so much for their intimate knowledge of law, as from their possession of such a modicum of good sense as to enable them to dispose equitably of matters in dispute coming before them for decision. The present work by Mr. Kerr, well known for his abilities as a criminal lawyer, cannot but be found exceedingly useful. It has been prepared with great care, and will be found to contain directions for all proceedings likely to be brought before Justices of the Peace. The titles will give a fair idea of the subjects treated of. Under these will be found the mode of appointment, the nature of the duties, the jurisdiction as to locality, &c., the rules as to evidence and the Jurisdiction of Quarter Sessions. All the acts are recited at full length, with very copious notes and forms, with addenda (very much required in such a work,) showing the sections of the Statutes of the old Provinces preserved from repeal by schedule B of 32 and 33 Vict., Cap. 36. The forms are numerous and varied to suit almost every conceivable case, and a full and complete index adds greatly to the value of the work, which, in a handy form, embraces pretty much all the law that an ordinary Justice of Peace requires."—Montreal Herald.

"It is to be regarded as a most valuable acquisition to the list of Canadian publications, as bearing upon a subject of so much importance to Magistrates and others concerned in the administration of the law. In dealing with his subject, the author has attained the merit of being lucid and concise, whilst at the same time he has given additional importance to his work by the citation of numerous authorities. The research and application necessary for the proper application of these authorities can hardly be estimated at its proper value, and this suffices to commend the work to the attention not only of Magistrates, but of professional men."—Revue Critique.

Popham's Insolvent Law.

12mo. Cloth; pp. 237. Price, $1.00. Half law sheep, $1.25.

THE INSOLVENT ACT OF 1869. With Notes and Decisions of the Courts of Ontario and Quebec, together with the Rules of Practice, and the Tariff of Fees for the Provinces of Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

"This book is published by Messrs. Dawson Brothers, Montreal, and it is most seasonable. The Insolvent Act, now extended to the Lower Provinces, with some modifications, has long been in operation in the Upper Provinces, where the barristers have made a special study of it. We have no doubt the notes, decisions and other matters contained in this volume, will make it very acceptable here."—St. John Telegraph.

"We have received from Dawson Brothers, of Montreal, a copy of the new Insolvent Act, published by their house. It forms a small volume, neatly and strongly bound, and very well 'got up.' Its arrangement is such as greatly to facilitate reference to the different subjects; and its index, unlike that of our own Provincial Statutes, is a sure and easy guide to its contents. The work is calculated not only to meet the exact requirements of men in the profession, but also to be of great assistance to mechanics and official assignees."—Halifax Chronicle.

"The value of a manual of this kind will be the more apparent from the fact that the same insolvent law applies to all the provinces of the Federation. It is important, moreover, to know the changes made in the act of 1864 herein set forth. The Compiler and Editor thus states his object: 'To illustrate the legal meaning of certain sections of the law chiefly by decisions of the Courts of Ontario and Quebec on analogous sections of the act of 1864; and of others by decisions of the English, Scotch and French tribunals.' The work is well calculated to meet the needs of the profession, and the hope of Mr. Popham, that the Insolvent Act should thus be made intelligible and useful to merchants and official assignees. It should have a large sale in Quebec."—Quebec Chronicle.

McCord's Civil Code.

12mo. Half law sheep. Price, $1.25.

THE CIVIL CODE OF LOWER CANADA; together with a Synopsis of the Changes in the Law; References to the Reports of the Commissioners; the Authorities as reported by the Commissioners; A Concordance with the Code Napoleon and the Code de Commerce; Special References for Notaries, Clergymen, Physicians, Merchants, Real Estate Owners, and Persons out of Lower Canada; and a complete Analytical Index. By THOMAS MCCORD, Advocate, Secretary to the Codification Commission.

Second Edition; with Notes, showing the Statutory alterations since the promulgation of the Code.

"Not only an interesting study to the intelligent citizen; but a positive aid and guide to persons in many circumstances and transactions of life."—Quebec Chronicle

"Should be in the hands of everybody."—Montreal Gazette.

"A small, neat and convenient volume with a brief and succinct preface relating to the Code. As a useful pocket manual of intelligible law, this volume has, and unfortunately can have as yet, no rival in England and not many in the English Colonies."—London Saturday Review.

"The new edition has the additional value of carefully prepared notes, in which Mr. McCord succinctly indicates such provisions of law, or judicial decisions, as bear upon any of the articles of the Code, and explains at the same time in what manner the article is effected. The typography and binding are unsurpassed specimens of Canadian workmanship, and reflect the highest credit on the enterprising publishers, Messrs. Dawson Brothers, of Montreal. We can heartily recommend any person to purchase a copy of this useful little book."—Quebec Chronicle.

"The great usefulness of this work, and its appreciation by the public, have been fully demonstrated by the rapid sale of the first edition. The necessity for a second edition is, however, more directly referable to the fact that during the three years or more since the Civil Code came into force, many of its provisions have, in different degrees, been affected by statutory legislation. An excellent synopsis of the changes in the law effected by the Civil Code of Lower Canada, has been drawn up by the author, and at the end of the volume a table of special references is given to show the articles more particularly useful to notaries, clergymen, physicians, real estate owners, merchants, and persons out of Lower Canada."—Quebec Gazette.

"Grâce à de nombreuses recherches, à une connaissance approfondie de notre droit, à ses heureux talents, mûries par l'étude, M. McCord a fait suivre chaque article du Code Civil d'une foule de notes indiquant le statut qu'il reproduit, ou l'article du Code français analogue. Comme secrétaire de la commission chargée de codifier nos lois, M. McCord se trouvait plus que tout autre en état de connaître les sources où puisaient les rédacteurs du Code, et, par conséquent, d'en publier une édition annotée. Aussi on a fait partout en Canada un bon accueil au code de M. McCord, et la première édition a été écoulee en peu de temps. La seconde édition, que nous avons sous les yeux, est plus complète que la première. M. McCord donne une liste complète de ces modifications. On trouve de plus à la fin du volume une table de concordance du code français avec le nôtre; une table destinée à indiquer aux notaires, au clergé et aux médecins, les articles de nos lois civiles qui les concernent. C'est donc un ouvrage précieux à plus d'un titre et qui devrait se trouver entre les mains non-seulement des hommes de profession, mais des marchands et de tout citoyen de la province de Québec."—Journal de Québec.

Wotherspoon's Civil Procedure.

12mo. Half law sheep. Price, $2.50.

A MANUAL OF THE PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE IN THE SEVERAL COURTS HAVING CIVIL JURISDICTION IN THE PROVINCE OF QUEBEC; Containing the Code of Civil Procedure of Lower Canada, with the Amendments thereto made since its promulgation; the Authorities as reported by the Commissioners, and References to subsequent decisions. Also, the Rules of Practice of the said several Courts, and Tables of the Tariff of Fees and Duties payable to Advocates and Counsel, as well as to the Bailiffs and other Officers of the Courts on all Proceedings; with various other useful matter and General Index. By IVAN WOTHERSPOON, Advocate, M. A., LL. B.

"This work of Mr. Wotherspoon's will be of the greatest service to all members of the bar. The notes with which it is enriched are most valuable."—L'Evenement, Québec.

"To the hard-worked practitioner the index to a work of this kind is an all important point. That to this work is compiled with commendable regard for accuracy and convenience of reference, and must be of great value to all who have occasion to use it."—Montreal Gazette.

Works by J. W. Dawson,

LL.D., F.R.S., F.G.S., Principal of the McGill University.

Dawson's Archaia.

12mo ; pp. 408. Cloth. Price, $1.50.

ARCHAIA ; or Studies of the Cosmogony and Natural History of the Hebrew Scriptures.

"Dr. Dawson is certainly entitled to a prominent place among the scanty band of combatants who are gifted with this rare faculty of double vision. He is at once a Geologist of no mean distinction, and a firm believer in the inspiration of the Hebrew Scriptures ; a combination of which it has been well observed, that were it more commonly to be met with, there would be more faith on the earth and also more Philosophy."—London Literary Gazette.

"A work of no ordinary merit, written with elegance of style and diction as well as with logical precision."—American Presbyterian.

"We have read this volume with great pleasure. There are some things in it with which we do not agree, but every page bears testimony to the substantial literary, scientific and theological attainments of its Author. There are no attempts to look askant at any of the important topics discussed. Candour, good sense and fine christian spirit, happily distinguish Principal Dawson's work from many which on both sides of the Atlantic, have been written on the same subject. We were aware of Dr. Dawson's accomplishments as a Geologist, but we were not prepared to accord to him that varied learning, evidences of which are apparent in this volume."—North British Review.

Dawson's Acadian Geology.

8vo.; pp. 694. Cloth. Price, $3.50.

ACADIAN GEOLOGY. The Geological Structure, Organic Remains, and Mineral Resources of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and Prince Edward Island.

SECOND EDITION ; revised and enlarged ; with a Geological Map and numerous Illustrations. By J. W. DAWSON, LL.D., Principal of McGill College, Montreal.

The first edition of Acadian Geology being nearly exhausted, and the public surveys of the maritime Provinces of British America not having made sufficient progress to render the work unnecessary to geologists and mining explorers, a second edition is in press, enlarged and brought up to the present state of knowledge, and with many additional illustrations.

The amount of new matter to be added to the work may be estimated from the fact that thirty important papers bearing on its subjects have, since the date of the first edition, been published in the Journal of the Geological Society of London, and the Canadian Naturalist alone ; and an amount of matter equally large has been issued in other scientific periodicals, and in public reports. The author has also in his possession much unpublished matter.

The mining resources of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick have been very largely developed since the issue of the first edition, and it is proposed to give as full an account as possible of the new mining enterprises, and to enter into the important questions connected with the extent of the known deposits of useful minerals and the prospects of new discoveries.

The author has much pleasure in stating that he has been able to secure the valuable co-operation of the Rev. Dr. Honeyman, F.G.S., in the Geology of Nova Scotia, and that of Prof. Bailey, of the University of New Brunswick, in the Geology of that Province, as well as the aid of several other able workers, on the Geology of the Lower Provinces, whose contributions will be fully acknowledged in the work.

"It requires only a glance at the work to perceive that there is here one of the most important of modern contributions to the science of Palæontological Botany."—Geological Magazine.

"The economic geology of the region is kept well to the fore, also its physical geography and agricultural characteristics as dependent on its geological structure. Many subjects of great interest in general geology, are illustrated or described in this volume, especially the nature of coal, the flora of the coal, preservation of erect trees, origin of gypsum, life in seas, estuaries, &c., trails, rain-marks, and footprints, albertite, gold, primeval man, &c. Upwards of 270 woodcuts, mostly excellent in character, a good geological map, and, lastly, several lists of contents, special subjects and illustrations, a valuable appendix, and useful index complete this satisfactory, well-written and well-printed work, on the geology, and geological resources of Acadia."—Annals and Magazine of Natural History.

"The general reader will find many pages of pleasant and lucid description, amplified from the former work, while the political economist will obtain from it a full description of the mineral resources of the Acadian provinces and statistics of their development during the last decade."—New York Evening Post.

"It is altogether a work of which the colony may very justly be proud, for it is not merely a valuable digest of the geology and palæontology of Acadia, but an important contribution to the literature of these sciences."—Pall Mall Gazette.

Dawson's Air-Breathers.

8vo.; pp. 31. Illustrated by 7 full page Lithographs containing over 200 Drawings. Price, $1.00.

THE AIR-BREATHERS OF THE COAL PERIOD; a descriptive account of the remains of Land Animals found in the Coal Formation of Nova Scotia, with remarks on their bearing on Theories of the Formation of Coal and of the Origin of Species.

Dawson's Zoology.

12mo.; pp. 264. Price, $1.25.

HAND-BOOK OF ZOOLOGY; with Examples from Canadian Species, recent and fossil; by J. W. DAWSON. L.L.D., F.R.S., &c.; with 275 illustrations.

This book contains 272 pages, and is illustrated by 275 wood-engravings. In selecting subjects for illustration, the author has invariably chosen such animals as the student can find for himself in the woods or streams of British America. The fossil animals of our country are also represented by illustrations of the leading species found in Canadian rocks.

The work is, however, not confined to Canadian zoology only, but is a complete manual on the general subject. The illustrations are of Canadian subjects, because it seems reasonable that each species should be represented in the memory of the learner in Canada by some living creature which he may himself capture and study.

"This little book is from the pen of Dr. Dawson, Principal of McGill University, who has gained for himself a well-earned reputation as an accomplished Naturalist. His works on Geology and kindred sciences hold a high place in the estimation of the learned, not only on this continent, but also in Europe. One is prepared, therefore, to find everything coming from his pen worth reading, and likely to contain important and original matter, more particularly on any subject which he has made a specialty, as in the case of the present publication. His Hand-book on Zoology is very carefully, correctly, and neatly got up, and contains 275 illustrations. The examples are taken mainly, if not entirely, from Canadian species, recent and fossil, and we regard this an important feature in the book for Canadian students and naturalists. It is extremely desirable to have text-books for our schools and colleges suited to our growing Dominion, and bearing on subjects especially connected with it. On this account we hail the present work as a valuable addition to our school and college literature, and trust it will have an extensive sale."

"We are glad of the appearance of this handsome little book. We have had nothing hitherto adapted to our own schools, in which examples were found of 'Canadian Species, recent and fossil.' This book admirably supplies this felt want; and, in the hands of Dr. Dawson, its accuracy and thoroughness, though a merely elementary text-book, may be unquestioned. The arrangement and size of the type is all that could be desired, while the illustrations are not only numerous, but are well adapted to illustrate the text and render the study a less dry and uninviting one to the young learner."

"Zoology is too much neglected in our schools, principally, no doubt, on account of the dry compendiums too often put into the hands of the timid beginner at the very outset. Professor Dawson's book, having been prepared for the use of his own classes, cannot but supply this desideratum. The clearness and conciseness of style, the methodical arrangement of material, together with that complete comprehension of his subject which could be the result only of years of patient study, will make this work doubly welcome to those for whose use it is intended. The publishers have done their part well. This neat manual in handsome binding, and abounding in illustrations of our Canadian fauna, is calculated to prove attractive to the eye, whilst instructing the intellect. Before we close the pages, the perusal of which has so much delighted us, may we not venture to express a hope that Canada has at least found her Agassiz."—Ottawa Evening Mail.

THE PUBLICATIONS
OF THE
Geological Survey of Canada

THE REPORT OF PROGRESS FROM THE COMMENCEMENT TO 1863 ; Illustrated by 498 Woodcuts.
One vol., large 8vo., pp. 983, $5.00.

"The style in which this work has been got up, the precision of the drawing, and the accuracy of the woodcuts, may almost challenge comparison with the execution of similar productions on this side of the Atlantic. There has been a steady persistence in the conduct of this remarkable survey, honourable alike to the successive Governments that have encouraged it, and to the officers who have carried out the work. No other Colonial Survey has ever yet assumed the same truly national character; and the day may come—if ever the "Imperial Colony" shall claim and obtain independence—when the Scientific public of a great nation, looking back upon the earlier dawnings of science in their land, shall regard the name of Logan, native born, with the same affectionate interest with which English geologists now regard the names of our great geological map-makers, William Smith and De la Beche."—London Saturday Review.

"This large octavo, of 983 pages, illustrated with 498 woodcuts, and to be accompanied by an atlas of maps and sections, presents a condensed view of the work of the Canadian Survey from its commencement in 1843. It gives the results of the combined labors of Sir W. E. Logan, Mr. Murray, Dr. Hunt, and Mr. Billings, a staff not to be surpassed either in ability or energy, and aided also by several able assistants, of whom Mr. Richardson and Mr. Bell stand first. The value of this work to Canada can scarcely be over-estimated. It must be regarded as of vast importance, whether we consider readers abroad or at home, whether we consider scientific objects purely or those which are practical. Its mechanical execution is an evidence of the progress of the arts among us. Its publication to the world is a proof of the interest taken in science in this country, and of the enlightened patronage afforded by the Government to such investigations, and at the same time, of the immense value of our mineral resources, as well as of the extent to which they have already been made available. It gives for the first time to geologists abroad the means of making themselves thoroughly acquainted with the geology of this country; and it thus places Canada on a level with those older countries whose structure has been explored, and the knowledge of it made the common property of the world."—Canadian Naturalist.

THE REPORT OF PROGRESS FROM 1866 TO 1869;

Accompanied by the following Geological and Typographical Maps. One large 8vo. vol., pp. 475. Price $2.00.

Geological Map of the Pictou Coal Field, in the Province of Nova Scotia. By SIR WM. LOGAN, F. R. S., and EDWARD HARTLEY, F. G. S. Printed in colours.

Geological Map of Lower Silurian Rocks, between the Chaudiere and Trois Pistoles Rivers. By JAMES RICHARDSON. Printed in colours.

Geological Map, showing the distribution of the rock formations in parts of the Counties of Peterborough, Hastings, Addington and Frontenac. By MR. HENRY G. VENNOR. Printed in colours.

Topographical Sketch-Map, showing the outlines of the Coal Formations in Central New Brunswick. By MR. CHARLES ROBB.

Topographical Sketch-Map, showing the Thunder Bay and Lake Nipigon Regions. To illustrate Mr. Bell's Report.

The above reports give a condensed History of what has been done by the Geological Survey from its commencement to 1869. The Annual Reports, as made to Parliament, are mostly out of print. The following can, however, yet be had:

Annual Reports.

REPORT OF PROGRESS, FOR THE YEAR 1853-54-55-56. With a large 4to. vol. of Maps. Price, $4.00.

This Report is of especial value, inasmuch as it covers the territory between the Upper Ottawa and Lake Huron, and the territory on the North of the Ottawa, shortly to be opened up by Railways. The Atlas contains 23 lithographed sheets of Maps, showing the country on the North Shore of Lake Huron, the French River, Lake Nipissing, Ottawa River, and other Streams and Lakes which form an almost continuous chain, uniting the Georgian Bay and the waters of the Ottawa.

This truly great and beautiful Map will at once recommend itself to all lovers of Geological Science in America. It consists of eight sheets, each 24 x 20½ inches, and, when mounted on rollers, measures 8 ft. by 3 ft. 7 in. It is engraved on steel, in the best style, and is coloured by hand in 33 colors, showing the different formations. The Territory mapped extends from Labrador on the East, to the Red River on the West, and from Hudson's Bay on the North, to Northern Virginia on the South. Besides the Geology of the British Provinces, (the main object of the map,) the Geology of the Northern United States is fully shown ; and it is as completely a Geological Map for the States of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, New Jersey, Vermont, Michigan, Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota, as it is for Canada. The Coal Regions are shown with precision from Cape Breton to Missouri.

“We have at length the pleasure of announcing the appearance of this important and long looked-for contribution to American geology. The legend of the map informs us that the geological details for Canada, comprising the former Provinces of Upper and Lower Canada (now Ontario and Quebec) are furnished by the Geological Survey under the direction of Sir William E. Logan. He has himself compiled the geology of the various States of the Union under the supervision of Prof. Hall, from various sources which are mentioned in detail in the preface to the Atlas of the Geology of Canada, (published in 1865), where he tells us that this portion of the work was done “with the approval of Prof. James Hall, who has freely placed all his materials at the disposal of the compiler, and aided by his intimate personal knowledge of the geology of a greater part of the region represented.” For the geology of the Provinces of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Newfoundland, also, the most authentic printed and manuscript maps were consulted, as described in the Atlas just referred to.”—Silliman's Journal.

“There is a decided superiority about this map over any of its size that we have yet seen, whether as regards the distinctness of its colouring, or the accuracy and clearness with which boundaries, rivers, railroads, &c., are defined. In these essentials it forms a striking contrast to the generality of maps published in this country; which, if plain, are frequently so faint as in many places to be hardly distinguishable; and if colored, the work is done with so heavy a hand, as often to hide entirely from view very many points of interest. The insertion of the different railroad lines throughout the provinces has likewise been particularly attended to in the execution of the work; and then to give completeness to it, we have an outline of the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, &c., clear through to the sea-board, thus presenting not only the configuration of the British American Provinces, but the boundaries, and railroad and steamboat connections existing between them and their neighbours.—Quebec Gazette.”

TABLES OF MEASURES, English, Old French and Metrical. By ARTHUR WURTELE, C. E.

This little book will be found very useful in reducing the old French Measures of Lower Canada into English Measures, and vice versa. It contains, also, Tables of the Metrical Measures of France. There is no other work in which the values of such measures as the "Arpent," the "Pied du Roi," the "Toise," the "Minot," &c., are given relatively to the modern English and the French Metrical systems.

"It oftentimes happens that contracts are made in Canada in the old French measures, and this is not a little puzzling to new comers or those who have not been long conversant with these measures in every day work. To such this little book furnishes a solution of their difficulty, and offers, besides, a means of reducing the new French measures, mention of which one meets with every day in one's reading into our ordinary English measures. Few books contain so much useful information in such a small compass as this."—Montreal Gazette.

THE PROPHECY OF MERLIN AND OTHER POEMS.

By JOHN READE.

"A volume in every way worthy of the land of the Lakes. It is well written, well printed and well bound. The author in his verses unites power with sweetness. He is a disciple of Tennyson, whose writings he has studied with earnestness and care. The longest poem, 'The Prophecy of Merlin,' is thoroughly readable, and though modeled on the 'Idyls,' is in no degree an imitation. * * That he (Mr. Reade) is capable of selecting a subject and treating it effectively, his poem on 'Vashti' is ample evidence. The local colouring of some of the poems gives the book an especial interest for Colonial readers. Every page in it is worth perusal."—Dublin University Magazine.

"Mr. Reade is successful in his version of 'The Prophecy of Merlin.' Metrically and in style it does not suffer in comparison with 'Morte d'Arthur.' 'Vashti' is really a fine poem; as also 'The Old War Horse,' and 'Thalatta, Thalatta,' 'Killynoogan' and 'Devenish.' The translations are good. In 'Andre Chenier's Death-Song,' Mr. Reade has attained a success which reminds the reader of the spirited translations of Beranger, by Father Prout."—New York World.

"The Poems show refinement, delicate feelings, religious sentiment, and carefully subdued in tone, and free from all fantastic tricks with words, or startling and extravagant fancies."—Boston Advertiser.

"Mr. Reade's poetry is distinguished by great tenderness and depth of feeling, purity of language and exquisite harmony."—Christian Guardian.

DREAMLAND, AND OTHER POEMS. By CHAS. MAIR.

"He possesses a keen enjoyment and appreciation of things, that esprit de Bohème which gives broad views and bold utterances, that catholic habit of mind added to extensive reading which warps him to no school, a great command and felicitous choice of language, and above all, a finished, elaborate and free versification yet unequalled in Canadian literature.

* * * This book contains twenty poems, of which number three or four are of such rare excellence as to deserve a place in the fore rank of the best contemporaneous literature."—Montreal Gazette.

Charles Heavysege.

12mo. Cloth Extra. Price, $1.00.

JEPHTHAH'S DAUGHTER. A Poem. By CHARLES HEAVYSEGE. Author of Saul.

"Mr. Heavysege's last production, published in Montreal in 1865, is a sacred idyl, of fourteen hundred lines, entitled 'Jephthah's Daughter.' As in the case of 'Saul,' the poet here follows the narrative of the Bible. By many this poem will be considered the greatest and most perfect of his productions, and if we had not already exceeded our limits, nothing would afford us more pleasure than to give our readers a score or two of splendid passages from this poem."—Washington Weekly Chronicle.

"Canada can at length point to a poetical writer whom even the fastidious criticism of England cannot refrain from pronouncing respectable; and this is saying not a little. To Mr. Heavysege, of Montreal, the honor is due of being the first Canadian writer who has attempted with success an elaborate poem. In the volume before us, the biblical story of Jephthah's rash vow is narrated by the author with force and simplicity. The situations are conceived naturally and without extravagance; the dialogues and soliloquies are skilfully worked up; are full and well sustained. Occasionally the vein is Miltonic; occasionally Homeric. Almost everywhere the language, sentiment and rhythm are refined, and calculated to give pleasure to educated minds. This book, though bearing 'Montreal' on its title page, has been printed and brought out in the best style, in London. It will form a beautiful and appropriate present at the approaching season of gifts."—Toronto Leader.

Beers' Lacrosse.

12mo. Cloth. Price, $1.00.

THE CANADIAN GAME — LACROSSE — The National Game of Canada. By W. G. BEERS, Secretary of the Lacrosse Association. With Photographic Illustrations of every position in the Game.

This book is published with the sanction of the National Lacrosse Association of Canada, and contains the Rules of the Game as last adopted. Also a complete history and description of the Game as played originally by the Indians. Twelve photographs by Notman, illustrate the practical part.

The book has been got up in the very best style, and every endeavor has been made to make it a worthy contribution to the literature, as well as practice, of our National Game. The Historical Associations are treated at length, and notices of this interesting Game by Charlevoix, Carver, Basil, Hall, Catlin, and other writers, are compared with the customs of the present day.

"To the Indians must be awarded the credit of having invented the game of Lacrosse, and unless archæologists can prove that some superior type of humanity invented the manly sport, it is only just they should have the honor of its inception. The present game in all its laws and regulations is accurately defined by the author, W. G. Beers, and the materials for play, and rules for posting and directing the players successfully described. The throwing, dodging, and checking of the ball, and finally, the fielding and goal keeping that concludes the volume, offer to the player many judicious hints, and as in all these manly sports nothing can be better calculated to develop the physique of man, the work may be regarded as a creditable addition to the sports of the field."—New York Turf, Field and Farm.

The Housekeeper's Manual.

4to. Half roan. Gilt. Price, $1.00.

THE MANUSCRIPT RECEIPT BOOK, AND HOUSEHOLD TREASURY ; For classifying and arranging Cookery, Medicinal and other Receipts.

Although many useful books are issued for the benefit of Housekeepers, this volume will supply a want hitherto unfulfilled. Receipts without number are constantly given to the public by newspapers, magazines and larger works, which are lost from the want of some means of classifying and preserving them ; moreover, who is there that does not desire to retain a memorandum of familiar home dishes, some entirely out of date, and some unknown to compilers of cook books, but still most savory because once prepared in the old homestead. Besides, many persons gather in, day by day, receipts used by familiar friends and which are not to be found in print ; and this HOUSEHOLD TREASURY, with its complete classification, presented in an attractive form, will be found admirably adapted for their reception.

Dr. Miles' School History.

12mo.; pp. 345. Cloth. Price, 75 cents.

A SCHOOL HISTORY OF CANADA ; Prepared for use in the Elementary and Model Schools, with many Wood-Engravings, a Map of New France and New England, and a Map of the operations at the siege of Quebec, in 1759, with Appendices giving an outline of the Constitution of the Dominion of Canada, a Table of Chronology for the History of Canada, and Questions for Examination. By H. H. MILES, M.A., LL.D.

"This little work has been prepared for the use of the Elementary and Model Schools of this Province, and received the sanction of the Council of Public Instruction, as a manual suitable for the instruction of Catholic and Protestant pupils alike. Its aim was to meet the requirements of scholars of all denominations, and this end is likely to be achieved. In the issue of this work, certain limits, as to the quantity of matter and expense were imposed, which has prevented the compiler from treating any important event in our history at length, and has necessitated a modest typographical or mechanical appearance. But these drawbacks apart, Dr. Miles has acquitted himself of his task with credit, and has given our youth and our mature community, too, a work at once highly interesting and useful. People unable or unwilling to toil through ponderous histories, can here find a clear methodical, reliable sketch, of the leading events and incidents connected with Canada since its discovery by Amerigo or Cabot. The early story of the French colonization is concisely and pleasantly told, and the succeeding transactions, down to the English conquest and the second American War, related in a similar manner. We believe Dr. Miles a careful and correct writer, and judging from the passages we have read, are of opinion the whole is entitled to public confidence. In a work of this nature, it was necessary to avoid prejudice, doubtful matters and irritating allusions, which has certainly been done, so far as we have observed. We can commend this little volume as an excellent reader and useful book of reference for all who take an interest in Canadian history. At the beginning is a map of Canada, interspersed through its pages are illustrations of prominent personages connected with the narrative, and at the end is a sketch of our constitution and a table of chronology."—Quebec Chronicle.

Dr. Miles' Child's History.

12mo.; pp. 142. Cloth. Price, 40 cents.

A CHILD'S HISTORY OF CANADA ; Prepared for the use of Elementary Schools and the Young Reader ; with many Illustrations, a Table of Chronology, a Series of Examination Questions, and a Map of New France and New England. By H. H. MILES, M.A., LL.D.

This book contains an outline of Canadian History from the time of the discovery of the country by Jacques Cartier down to the present day. It has been prepared expressly for beginners and youthful readers, as a first course, and, therefore, includes only the most striking and most important events. The narrative, consisting principally of interesting accounts of the historical characters and incidents, will easily, with the aid of the general map at the beginning, and of the chronological tables and set of questions at the end of the work, be mastered by the youthful scholar.

"This unpretentious little volume seems well calculated to serve the purpose for which it is intended. The language used is simple and easily comprehended, and instead of being a mere uninteresting outline of the history, it consists principally of accounts of historical characters, and incidents graphically described and arranged in the order of time. The illustrations, though not very numerous, will add greatly to the attractiveness of the book for its young readers. Teachers will be glad to see that there is a map at the commencement of the volume, and a chronological table and set of questions at the close."—Witness.

Andrew's Dramatic Reader.

12mo.; pp. 424. Half bound. Price, 75 cents.

THE DRAMATIC READER, comprising a selection of pieces for practice in Elocution, with Introductory Hints to Readers.

By JOHN ANDREW, Instructor in Elocution, McGill College and Normal School, and Master of Elocution, High School Department of McGill College, Montreal.

In making selections for the volume, the compiler has been guided by his long experience as a teacher. While drawing only from authors of reputation, the object has been to extract such passages as are unhackneyed, interesting and amusing. The pieces are mostly unabridged, and the book is largely composed of extracts from the best Dramatists, including scenes from Shakspeare, few of which have hitherto appeared in any class-book.

"We have looked over this work with the greatest pleasure. One of the most primary elements of education ought to be to learn how to read, but it is what very few people really do learn or at all understand; for a mere mumbling or stringing out of printed words cannot be called reading. The 'practical hints to readers,' which Professor Andrews has given, are very clear, which is very much to say in their favor, and they leave a distinct impression on the mind of the reader. They are 'practical,' and if studied they cannot fail to improve the reading of the student. They are founded upon the experience of a teacher of ten years' standing. Another merit of the book is that while the extracts are interesting and taken from writers of eminence, they are not hackneyed. This feature will afford a relief to both teachers and learners; for although some of the old pieces in the ordinary 'readers' are undoubtedly very fine, one can become sick of the same thing too often repeated."—Montreal Gazette.

"This book is got up with neatness and good taste. Our Reading Books are in general of either too British or too American a cast, but the present volume is a happy medium, giving us some of the best selections from the authors of both countries. Space forbids us to particularize. We will only emphatically say, that it is the best book of the kind that we have seen. It neither wearies the student with useless rules, nor leaves him altogether without direction. In a word, we heartily recommend it, and hope that it will speedily become what it deserves to be—a Canadian Text-Book."—Dalhousie College (Halifax) Gazette.

OF THE
Spencerian System of Penmanship.

The System is comprised in Twelve numbers, and divided into four distinct Series, viz.:

Nos. 1, 3, 4 and 5,.....Common School Series.

" 6 and 7,.....Business Series.

" 8 and 9,.....Ladies' Series.

" 10, 11 and 12,.....Exercise Series.

The Copy Books are all printed on the Finest Cream Wove Paper. Each book contains twenty-four pages with full directions printed separately for each book on its own wrapper.

This System has been officially recommended by the State Boards of Education of Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Kansas. It is used in nine-tenths of all the Normal Schools in the United States. It has been officially adopted and used in nearly all the principal cities from New York to St. Louis. It is the only System taught in the Commercial Colleges of this Dominion, and is used by the best Business Penmen everywhere.

The following recommendations are selected from hundreds of a similar character :

"GENTLEMEN,—My attention was recently called to the revised Series of Copy-Books for instruction in the 'Spencerian System of Practical Penmanship,' with which system I have been acquainted for several years. I most earnestly recommend that these Copy-books be used in all the schools of the State."—Hon. Samuel L. Rugg, Supt. Pub. Instruct., Ind.

"We take great pleasure in giving our testimony to the excellence of the 'Spencerian System of Penmanship,' by P. A. Spencer and his associates. This system is now adopted in the Michigan Normal School, and is giving complete satisfaction. We deem this recommendation an act of justice, not only to the superiority of the system, but also to Mr. P. R. Spencer, to whom belongs the credit of first originating and introducing a complete system of Penmanship in this country."

A. S. WELCH,	E. M. FOOTE,	ALBERT MILLER,	E. A. HURLBUT,

Michigan State Normal School, Ypsilanti.

"From a careful examination of the System, and from having seen the results of lessons in it, we have been led to adopt the 'Spencerian System of Penmanship' in our Normal School, believing it to be better adapted to the wants of teachers and pupils than any other system in use."—Charles H. Allen, Prin. Wisconsin State Normal School.

"This may certify that the 'Spencerian System of Penmanship' was adopted by the State Board of Education about one year since; that the system is regularly used in the Penmanship department of this Institution, giving the utmost satisfaction, both as to results and as to methods of teaching."—Perkins Bass, Prin. State Normal Univ., Bloomington, Ill.

The following resolution was passed by the Illinois State Board of Education, June 27th, 1862 :

"Resolved, * * * * That we cordially approve the 'Spencerian System of Penmanship,' and earnestly commend it and the systematic methods of teaching the same, to the Schools of the State."

"We are now using, and have been for a considerable period of time, the 'Spencerian System of Penmanship.' This series of books was adopted for the simple reason that we preferred it to any other before the public."—Prof. Fordyce A. Allen, Prin. of Chester County Normal and Female Institute, Pa.

"The 'Spencerian Penmanship' is the best I have any knowledge of."—John Ogden, A. M., late Prin. of Minnesota State Normal School.

The following named gentlemen also commend the system in the highest terms :

Hon. E. E. White, State School Commissioner, Ohio

Hon. Anson Smyth, Supt. of Cleveland Schools.

Taylor's Last Three Bishops.

Fcap, 4to. Cloth Extra. Price, $1.50.

THE LAST THREE BISHOPS APPOINTED BY THE CROWN FOR THE ANGLICAN CHURCH IN CANADA; The Right Rev. Francis Fulford, D.D.; The Right Rev. George Jehoshaphat Mountain, D.D., D.C.L.; The Hon. and Right Rev. John Strachan, D.D., LL.D. By FENNINGS TAYLOR, Deputy Clerk, and Clerk Assistant of the Senate of Canada.

Purple cloth extra, embossed, bevelled, carmine edges; with Portraits on steel of the three Bishops. Printed on tinted paper, red border line round each page.

"Mr. Taylor has given us a volume of great literary merit, whose excellence is only indicated by its outside endowments."—Montreal Herald.

"This volume de luxe, so exquisitely got up, is worthy of the care and expense bestowed on its publication."—Journal of Education, Province of Ontario.

"* * * Few biographical pictures of the present times have been drawn with more artistic skill. * * * Mr. Taylor has done a good work, and he has done a good work well. Thousands among us, who will not care to criticise his art, will earnestly thank him for his labor. Even the critical will be compelled to admit the skill with which he has drawn the outline, and the fidelity with which he has filled it in. His heart has clearly been in his work; otherwise he must have failed to enchain the reader as he does, or give us in such recognizable form the character and lives of those whom he has chosen for his gallery."—Toronto Daily Telegraph.

"* * * Mechanically the book is well got up, in true ecclesiastical style; and from its subject and the known ability of its author, will doubtless command a large sale in Canada. * * * Those who, in past years, fought and won the battle of 'no connection between Church and State in Canada,' will rejoice to find in Mr. Taylor's volume ample admissions of the happy results that have flown from the policy for which they were so long and so vehemently denounced."—Daily Globe, Toronto.

"Mr. Taylor's book suggests the thought, and the prayer, that in all substantial excellencies, the appointments to bishoprics made henceforth by the Canadian Church for herself may, at least, equal the last three made by the Crown."—The Guardian, London, England.

"The compiler of the records is happy in having offered to his hand three men so clearly distinct in character and history, — they, not unhappy in a memorial so genial and sagacious. The biographies are interesting in themselves, and of use to American Churchmen for meditation. * * * The life of Bishop Strachan is a study—we venture not on a brief view of it. God raises up some men in the Church to stand like rocks in the stream of society, and hold up to men certain powers and truths. We have enjoyed these three scriptographs—of three noble saints—of what is fast becoming the 'olden time.' It is a pleasant view they give us into the inner workings of our sister Church. May she never lack such men—of stateliness, of gentle purity, and heroic toughness,—in her good fight of faith!—Church Journal, New York.

"It was a happy thought to combine in one volume memoirs of the three bishops whose lives form the close of a distinct era in the history of the Anglican Church in Canada. Working out the idea with an evident relish, Mr. Taylor has accomplished his self-imposed task well, and with perfect acceptableness, especially to the large subdivision of the Christian community more immediately concerned in this subject."—The Church Herald, Toronto.

Goodwin's Works, complete, . 12 Vols. . $15.00

This is the only complete edition of the works of Thomas Goodwin, and contains Preface by the Rev. Canon MILLER and Life by Rev. Dr. HALLEY.

Sibbes's Works, complete, . 7 Vols. . 8.75

The works of Richard Sibbes were never published in a uniform edition before; the complete writings of the author, as given in this edition, could not be obtained previously for less than £50. A Memoir of Sibbes by the Rev. A. B. GROSART, is prefixed.

Charnock's Works, complete, . 5 Vols. . 6.25

This edition contains Life of Charnock, by the Rev. Dr. M'COSH.

Clarkson's Practical Works, complete, 3 Vols. 3.75

This edition contains the celebrated Treatise, "Of the Practical Divinity of the Papists discovered to be destructive of Christianity and Men's Souls," with a preface by Rev. THOMAS SMITH.

Adams's Practical Works, complete, } 3 Vols. . 3.75
Sermons and Treatises by Samuel Ward, }

These volumes contain two Sermons by Adams never before published, and Life by the Rev. Dr. ANGUS. Ward's Sermons and Treatises are prefaced by the Rev. J. C. RYLE.

Full Indexes of Subjects and of Texts are appended to each Work.

The Volumes are durably and handsomely bound, and are fitted at once to take their place in any library; and it is to be remembered that uniform editions of Goodwin, Sibbes, and Clarkson, have not previously existed.

"Very seldom have any promises of a publisher been so amply redeemed as those given in the original prospectus of these Puritan reprints. As mere books, the printing, paper, and binding have been admirable ; for quantity furnished at the price, the cheapness has been really wonderful ; and, as to quality, we have only to recall the massy strength and depth of Goodwin, the sparkling and pithy wit of Adams, the sententious vigor and thoroughness of Clarkson, the heavenly sweetness and unction of Sibbes, and the broad and philosophical grandeur of Charnock, to feel, that those who possess these works are rich in a literature worth infinitely more than they have paid for it."—South Shields Gazette.

"The design is most noble ; it will be the monumental library of the Puritan Fathers.
• • We have nothing to add to the admiration we have already expressed of the enterprise of the publisher, and the perfect getting up of the volumes."—The Eclectic Review.

"This is truly a magnificent scheme, to be hailed by readers of every evangelical class ; and, especially, because many of the golden treatises to be reproduced are at present extremely scarce."—Wesleyan Methodist Magazine.

"It is a noble work—a glorious work—in which hundreds and thousands of hearts will wish the movers God-speed."—The Gospel Magazine.

"The type is most readable, the volume most elegant in appearance, and the price a marvel, even in this age of cheap publications."—The Homilist.

"A more magnificent undertaking in the theological book-world was never attempted ; the greatness of it can only be equalled by its value ; and this can never be adequately estimated, even by those best acquainted with the intellectual wealth of the Puritan age."—The Primitive Church Magazine.

"We have many cheap publishing schemes, but this far outstrips them all, and nothing can sustain it but a very large sale. Our earnest desire is that this may be attained."—The Patriot.

"Mr. Nichol is amply fulfilling his promises. The Puritans are appearing in their new dress with the most exact punctuality in time, and with every condition of the original proposal of publication observed, with one exception—that Mr. Nichol is giving more for the money than he promised."—Patriot.

"They are not only valuable in themselves, but admirably edited, and marvellously cheap. A cheaper and better series of theological works has never issued from the British press ; and it cannot fail to enrich many a student's and minister's library, both at home and abroad."—Witness.

Nichol's Series of Commentaries.

Crown 4to. Price, $2.00 per Vol.

It was designed in this Series to reproduce those Commentaries of the Puritan period which had become difficult to procure from their rarity and the high prices at which alone they could be obtained. It was conceived by those who were conversant with them, that their reproduction at a cheap rate and in an agreeable form, would prove an acceptable boon to the student of theology, and render no small service to the preacher of the Gospel. The Publisher has to express his regret that the demand for this Series has not realised his expectation. This he attributes to the fact that the value of the works has been lost sight of from their rarity in the market, but as they become better known he trusts their worth will be fully recognised. It were unfair to either party to compare these Puritan expositors with modern commentators ; but it may be safely said, that while they of course fall behind their successors in some respects, it would be difficult to name any modern writer who excels even the least distinguished of them, in knowledge of the Bible, and ability to make Scripture interpret itself. Fairly to test the practicability of again giving these important and able works the place they are entitled to in the libraries of Ministers, the Publisher has issued the colossal work of Dr. W. Gouge on the Epistle to the Hebrews. This work, the fruit of thirty years' research and study, is a monument of the industry and painstaking character of the author. Of his learning and the influence he exercised, of the crowds who thronged his church to hear the lectures delivered, of which this work is the condensation, it is unnecessary to speak, as wherever the commentaries of the Puritans are known, this work is regarded as one of the chief.

BOOKS PUBLISHED BY

Dr. Miles' Larger History of Canada,

UNDER FRENCH REGIME,

1735-63.

WITH MAPS, PLANS AND ILLUSTRATIVE NOTES.

By H. H. MILES, LL.D., D.C.L.

Secretary of the Quebec Council of Public Instruction.

Crown, 8vo. ; pp. 547. $2.00.

This book is an important contribution to the History of Canada. It has been written from original authorities, and covers a period of American history unsurpassed in interest.

Commencing with the discovery of the country, the author narrates the early struggles under Champlain, the rising fortunes of the Colony under Frontenac, and the disastrous but heroic close of the early regime under Montcalm and De Levis. The story of the campaign of the winter and spring of 1759-60, which has not generally received due attention, is narrated in full. The author has availed himself of the recently published Archives of Nova Scotia, and has given in the Appendix many valuable documents. A copious Index of Reference is added.

The Work is illustrated by the following Maps and Plans :—

1. A general Map of New France and New England, showing the sites of the old strongholds of border warfare in Colonial times.
2. A Map of the Lake George and Champlain Country, showing the routes of invasion.
3. A Plan of Montreal in 1759, showing the fortifications and public buildings.
4. A Plan of Quebec in 1759.
5. A Map of Siege operations around Quebec in 1759.
6. A Plan of De Levis' Winter Campaign, 1759-60.

Price 50c. ; or on fine toned paper, 75c.

LORD BANTAM : a Satire.

From the Weekly Review [London.]

The second book of a successful writer is the critical one ; and though the author of "Ginx's Baby" has done some good work lately in a different style—witness especially "The Coolie"—the appearance of "Lord Bantam" is a very important point in his career. We are truly glad to be able to congratulate him. This is a better book than his first. If the jokes are not better—and they were good enough before—the sense is, and sense is the soul of satire.

"Lord Bantam" is broader, truer, more distinct, and more serious than "Ginx's Baby."

From the Watchman [London.]

To do justice to the wit and wisdom of these volumes would be to transfer to our pages much more than is permitted by publishers to reviewers.

From the British Quarterly Review.

"Lord Bantam" is even more clever in parts than its forerunner. Told with inimitable tact—permeated too with that dry satiric humor which we admired so much in "Ginx." The whole story is recited with the rarest humor and the most telling satire. It is a book to laugh over, and a book to think over too, for some of the gravest questions of the day are dealt with significantly.

Dawson's Map of the Dominion of Canada.

The late editions of this Map have been very much improved by the addition of new features most important to all interested in the Dominion.

The Free Grant Lands for settlers are shown in colour. The lands granted for railway purposes are also indicated, and the enormous extension of the railway system, both in completed and in projected roads, is laid down with care.

DAWSON BROTHERS

ARE SPECIAL AGENTS FOR THE SALE OF THE FOLLOWING WORKS,

PUBLISHED BY

HUNTER, ROSE & CO., TORONTO.

BRITISH AUTHORS.

BY WILKIE COLLINS.

Man and Wife: A Novel. Crown 8vo. ; Oxford Style, $1.00 ; paper, 75 cents.

"As might be inferred from the title, the chief object of this book is to show up the absurdity of matrimonial alliances that may be, and in many cases are, formed in the British Islands, under the peculiar laws respecting marriage which prevail in Ireland and Scotland. He shows that what is a legal marriage in one kingdom is not a marriage at all in another kingdom ; and that a couple married in a certain way in Ireland or Scotland might be punished for living together in England."—Toronto Telegraph.

Poor Miss Finch: A Domestic Story. Crown 8vo. Illustrated. Cloth, neat, $1.00 ; paper, 75 cents.

"The author sustains his reputation, and produces a book intensely interesting, realistic in details, and showing deep insight into character in the development of the dramatis personæ."—Toronto Express.

Miss or Mrs? A Christmas Story in Twelve Scenes. Demy 8vo. ; price 40 cents, paper.

"We have love and money, conspiracy and murder, thrilling situations and startling scenery, all combining to produce an effect essentially dramatic, while the reader is satisfied at the close by finding that those who deserve to be happy are so, and that retribution follows crime in the good old style."—Toronto Express.

The New Magdalen. Crown 8vo. Cloth, $1.00 ; paper, 75 cents. (In the Press.)

BY CHARLES READE.

A Terrible Temptation: A story of To-day. Crown 8vo. Profusely illustrated. Cloth embossed, $1.00 ; paper, 75 cents.

"The new story from the pen of Mr. Reade challenges the attention of all novel readers. They expect something startling, and they will certainly find in this publication occasion for all the astonishment they desire. The style is light and easy, progressing from point to point, without a perceptible jar, and it will give many an hour of pleasant employment to the idlers of the coming summer."—Philadelphia Age.

A Simpleton. Crown 8vo. Cloth, $1 ; paper, 75 cents. (In the Press.)
Christmas Story. Crown 8vo. (In the Press.)

BY LORD LYTTON.

King Arthur: A Poem. Revised edition. Crown 8vo. Cloth illuminated, $1.50. Frontispiece.

"This Poem is already known to a wide circle of English readers, who have not failed to recognise in it the graceful versatility, the exhaustless resources of incident and scenery, and the bold free drawing of character, which long ago placed Lord Lytton in the foremost rank of British authors."—Toronto Express.

BY ANTHONY TROLLOPE.

The Golden Lion of Granpere. A Story of the Franco-Prussian War. Crown 8vo. Cloth embossed, 75 cents; paper, 50 cents.

"It is a simple, pleasant story of middle class life in Alsace, after the late war: and judging from the reception it has already met with, we predict for it a great sale."—Canadian Illustrated News.

"This is a well-told tale, interesting and instructive."—Brantford Expositor.

BY MRS. OLIPHANT.

At His Gates. Crown 8vo.; cloth, $1.00; paper, 75 cents. (In the Press.)

BY DR. GEORGE MACDONALD.

Wilfred Cumbermede: An Autobiography. Crown 8vo. With 14 full-page illustrations. Cloth, $1.00; paper, 75 cents.

"'Wilfrid Cumbermede' is, we think, beyond his former works in point of interest and force, popular as they have been and are. * * This book is thoroughly well worth reading."—The Express, Toronto.

"The charm and value of Mr. Macdonald's work need not be sought. They present themselves unasked for, in the tender beauty of his descriptions, whether of nature or life and character, in his almost superhuman insight into the workings of the human heart, and in his unceasing fertility of thought and happy exactitude of illustration."—London Pall Mall Gazette.

The Vicar's Daughter: An Autobiographical Story. Cloth, $1.00; paper, 75 cents.

"One of the principal questions discussed in this story is the best means of doing good."—Montreal Witness.

"The narrative is intensely real, and is lit up here and there with touches of rare pathos and fine feeling."—Canadian Illustrated News.

CANADIAN AUTHORS.

BY MRS. S. MOODIE.

Roughing it in the Bush; or Forest Life in Canada. A New and Revised Edition. Crown 8vo. Illustrated and bound. Price $1.75.

"This work contains the fruits of a long and wide experience in a Canadian settler's life, and is deeply interesting in the vivid pictures it presents of the progress of our country from a wilderness to its present high state of culture and advancement."—Ottawa Citizen.

BY GEORGE W. HOLLEY.

Niagara: Its History and Geology, Incidents and Poetry. Illustrated and a Map. Crown 8vo. Cloth, neat, $1.00.

"The style of the book throughout is pleasant, and the touch light, with a good vein of humour. The illustrations also are a marvellous improvement upon the guide-book illustrations of former days. Upon the whole, we do not remember to have ever read a better work of its class."—Canadian Monthly Magazine.

BY ALEX. BEGG.

The History of the Red River Rebellion. Crown 8vo. Cloth, $1.50.

"The author of this volume is necessarily well informed, and gives a clear narrative of the growth of the rebellion, the crimes committed by the insurgents, and its collapse upon the appearance of the military. Mr. Begg's history will be accepted as reliable, and it is besides written in an easy, clear style—worthy of commendation."—Toronto Express.

- XXIV.—On a new species of Stickleback (Gasterosteus gymnetes); by J. W. Dawson, LL.D.
- XXV.—On some of the Glacial Phenomena of Canada and the north-eastern Provinces of the United States during the drift period; by Prof. Andrew C. Pamsay, F. R. S.
- XXVI.—On Ozone; by Charles Smallwood, M.D., LL.D.
- XXVII.—Fossils of the Calcareous Sandrock, including those of a deposit of white limestone at Mingan, supposed to belong to the formation; by E. Billings, F. G. S.
- XXVIII.—Description of some new species of Trilobites from the Lower and Middle Silurian Rocks of Canada; by E. Billings, F. G. S.
- XXIX.—On the Aurora Borealis on the 28th of August, 1859; by Charles Smallwood, M. D., LL.D.
- XXX.—Notes on Egyptian Antiquities presented to the Natural History Society; by Hon. Mr. Ferrier.
- XXXI.—On Ozone; by Charles Smallwood, M. D., LL.D.
- XXXII.—Notes on Land and Sea Birds observed around Quebec; by J. M. Lemoine.
- XXXIII.—On some points in chemical Geology; by T. Sterry Hunt, M. A., F. R. S.
- XXXIV.—Fossils of the Chazy Limestone, with descriptions of new species; by E. Billings, F. G. S.
- XXXV.—Archæia; or Studies of the Cosmogony and Natural History of the Hebrew Scriptures; by J. W. Dawson, LL.D., F. G. S. Review of, by Rev. A. F. Kemp.

CONTENTS OF VOL. V.

- ARTICLE I.—On Fossil Plants from the Devonian Rocks of Canada.
- II.—List of Plants found growing as indigenous in the neighbourhood of Prescott; by E. Billings, F. G. S.
- III.—On the Tubicolous Marine Worms of the Gulf of St. Lawrence; by J. W. Dawson, LL.D., &c.
- IV.—A Classified List of Marine Algae from the Lower St. Lawrence; by the Rev. Alex. F. Kemp.
- V.—Unusual modes of Gestation in Batrachians and Fishes.
- VI.—Description of some new species of Fossils from the Silurian Rocks of Canada; by E. Billings, F. G. S.
- VII.—Description of a new Paleozoic Starfish of the genus Palaaster, from Nova Scotia; by E. Billings, F. G. S.
- VIII.—Observations on the Natural History of the valley of the River Rouge; by W. S. M. D'Urban.
- IX.—Review of "Darwin on the Origin of Species by means of Natural Selection."
- X.—Abridged Sketch of the life of Mr. David Douglas.
- XI.—On the Silurian and Devonian Rocks of Nova Scotia.

- XII.—Description of new Species of Fossils from the Silurian Rocks of Nova Scotia ; by James Hall.
- XIII.—New Species of Fossils from the Lower Silurian Rocks of Canada ; by E. Billings, F. G. S.
- XIV.—Notices of the Life of the late Professor George Wilson, of Edinburgh.
- XV.—Notice of Tertiary Fossils from Labrador, Maine, &c ; by J. W. Dawson, LL.D., F.G.S.
- XVI.—Abridged Sketch of the life of Mr. David Douglas.
- XVII.—A Systematic List of Lepidoptera collected in the vicinity of Montreal ; by W. S. M. D'Urban.
- XVIII.—Abridged Sketch of the life of Mr. David Douglas.
- XIX.—On the Track of an Animal lately found in the Potsdam Formation ; by Sir W. E. Logan, F.R.S.
- XX.—Notes on the Coal Fields of Pictou ; by H. Poole, Esq.
- XXI.—On new Localities of Fossiliferous Silurian Rocks in Eastern Nova Scotia ; by Rev. D. Honeyman.
- XXII.—Notes on a specimen of Menobanchus lateralis, taken at London, C. W. ; by W. Saunders, Es
- XXIII.—On some new species of Fossils from the Limestone near Point Levi ; by E. Billings, F.G.S.
- XXIV.—Abridged Sketch of the life of Mr. David Douglas.
- XXV.—A Holiday Visit to the Acton Copper Mines.
- XXVI.—Notes on the Earthquake of October, 1860.
- XXVII.—The Meteor of July 20, 1860 ; by C. S. Lyman.
- XXVIII.—Le Verrier's Report on the Solar Eclipse of July, 1860.
- XXIX.—On certain Theories of the formations of Mountains.
- XXX.—Description of a new Trilobite from the Potsdam Sandstone ; by Frank H. Bradley.
- XXXI.—Notes on Birds wintering in and around Montreal ; by H. G. Vennor, junr.
- XXXII.—Notes on Aboriginal Antiquities recently discovered in the Island of Montreal.

CONTENTS OF VOL. VI.

- ARTICLE I.—On the Cornus florida of the United States ; by George S. Blackie, A.M., M.D.
- II.—A popular Treatise on the Fur-bearing Animals of the Mackenzie River District ; by B. R. Ross.
- III.—Addenda to the Natural History of the Valley of the River Rouge ; by W. S. M. D'Urban.
- IV.—On the occurrence of Freshwater Shells in some of our Post-tertiary Deposits ; by Robert Bell.
- V.—Professor Guyot on the Physical Geography of the Appalachian Mountain System.
- VI.—On some points in American Geology ; by T. Sterry Hunt, F.R.S.
- VII.—Correspondence of Joachim Barrande, Sir William Logan, and James Hall, on the Taconic System.
- VIII.—Catalogue of Plants collected in the Counties of Argenteuil and Ottawa, 1858 ; by W. S. M. D'Urban.
- IX.—Notes on the Geology of Murray Bay, Lower St. Lawrence ; by J. W. Dawson, LL.D., F. G. S.
- X.—On the Pre-carboniferous Flora of New Brunswick, Maine, and Eastern Canada ; by J. W. Dawson, LL.D., F.G.S.

- XI.—On the origin of some Magnesian and Aluminous Rocks by T. Sterry Hunt, F.R.S.
- XII.—On Canadian Caverns; by George D. Gibb
- XIII.—Flint-drift and Human Remains; extracted from the Duke of Argyle's opening address as President of the Royal Society of Edinburgh.
- XIV.—Considerations relating to the Quebec Group, and the Upper Copper-bearing Rocks of Lake Superior; by Sir W. E. Logan, F.R.S.
- XV.—Notes on the History of Petroleum or Rock Oil; by T. Sterry Hunt, M.A., F.R.S.
- XVI.—Remarks on some of the Birds that breed in the Gulf of St. Lawrence; by Henry Bryant, M.D.
- XVII.—List of Recent Land and Fresh-Water Shells collected around Lake Superior and Huron in 1859-60; by Mr. Robert Bell.
- XVIII.—Catalogue of Birds collected and observed around Lakes Superior and Huron in 1860; by Mr. Robert Bell
- XIX.—On the Flora of Hamilton and its vicinity; by Judge Logie.
- XX.—The Great Comet of 1861.
- XXI.—What to observe in Canadian Lichens; by W. Lauder Lindsay, M.D., F.L.S.
- XXII.—On the Mammals and Birds of the District of Montreal; by Archibald Hall, M.D., L. R. C. E.

DAWSON BROTHERS HAVE AT THEIR BOOK-BINDERY,

Corner of Craig and St. Francois Xavier Streets,

Great facilities for executing Book-binding in all its branches. They use the most approved machinery and employ the best workmen, and their Fine Bindings in Morocco and Calf are equal in workmanship to the productions of the leading Binders in London or New York.

They have made a specialty of the Manufacture of ACCOUNT BOOKS, for Banks and Merchants' Offices, and have aimed at combining a tasteful style with that strength and durability, which it is necessary that such books should possess. Being large importers of Saunders', Whatman's and Cowan's book papers, they are in a position to insure the use of the best material.

TWO CHROMO-LITHOGRAPHS OF
CANADIAN RIVER SCENERY;

AFTER DRAWINGS BY CHAS. J. WAY.

Size, 13 x 8. Price $6.00 the pair.

SUMMER SCENE—ON THE ST. MAURICE.
WINTER SCENE—ICE BOAT CROSSING THE ST.
LAWRENCE AT QUEBEC.

These Chromos have been executed by DAY & SON, of London, in the best style of the art, and are very excellent illustrations of some of the striking characteristics of Canadian Scenery.
